TUESDAY AFTERNOON ORGANIZATION ROYALLY ENTERTAINS CLUBS OF DISTRICT

The big function of the year for the Tuesday Afternoon Club in the matter of hospitality came off yesterday when representatives of clubs in the District Federation were entertained at a mid-day luncheon followed by an unusual musical program, of which the club had every reason to be exceedingly proud.

Special guests were: Mrs. Chas. A. Wiley, Treasurer of the State Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Sidney Thomas Exley, President of the District Federation; Mrs. F. A. Hanlon, Corresponding Secretary of District Board; Mrs. T. Bicknell, Treasurer of District Board; Mrs. Urquhart, chairman of Americanization of District Board; Mrs. A. R. Gates, chairman, and Mrs. Guy F. Bush, Assistant Chairman of Music Section, District Federation.

Clubs that accepted the invitation and that were represented by members were: Alhambra Wednesday Club, Burbank Woman's Club, Compton Pathfinders' Club, Downey Saturday Afternoon Club, Eagle Rock Twentieth Century Club, Inglewood Women's Club, Long Beach College Women's Club, Entre Nous Boyle Heights Club, Echo Park Mothers' Club, L. A. Friday Morning Club (represented by Mrs. Emma L. Reed, Federation Secretary), Highland Park Ebell, Galpin Shakespeare Club (Kate Tupper), South Side Ebell, Women's Auxiliary of Railway Mail Association, Hollywood Women's Club, Women's Club of University of Southern California, Montebello Women's Club, Pasadena Shakespeare Club, Pasadena Study Club, San Fernando Ebell, South Pasadena Women's Improvement Association, Van Nuys Women's Club, Wednesday Morning Club of Los Angeles.

The day preceding was a busy one for Miss Coral Griffith, Chairman of Decoration, through whose efforts the banquet hall and its approaches were made beautiful by huge clusters of chrysanthemums in dull green vases. On the tables were Cecil Brunner roses furnishing just the needed touch of color and perfume.

The responsibility for the big function naturally devolved upon the Hospitality Committee, Mrs. A. D. McCoy, chairman, and Mesdames W. L. Sinclair, David Gregg, John Stauffacher, R. P. Isitt, Louis Richardson, Ed M. Lee, Ray Phillips, G H. Rowe, Frank Hester, F. C. Braden and J. P. Shropshire, and the results of their hard work should have been highly satisfactory to them and the club in general.

A real dinner and a delicious one was served, each table being in charge of some member of the Hospitality Committee who supervised the serving. As a result one member who is very experienced in at-

SUPERVISORS PASS RESOLUTIONS CONCERNING CRIMINAL SYNDICALISM

The city clerk, J. C. Sherer, of Glendale, is in receipt of an important document being a printed copy of resolutions adopted by the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County calling attention to the law passed by the legislature of California and approved by the Governor April 30th last, defining criminal syndicalism and prescribing the penalties there, and urging the enforcement of this law by all officers for the enforcement of law and order from the United States Marshal to the police of every municipality. The resolutions follow:

WHEREAS, A large number of persons are going from place to place in this state advocating, teaching and practicing the doctrine of force and sabotage and urging an industrial and political change in the existing form of government; and

WHEREAS, As a result of such preaching and advocacy there exists social unrest culminating in the murder in a sister state of four members of the American Legion, ex-soldiers of the United States of America; and

WHEREAS, The Governor of the State of California did, on April 30, 1919, approve an act theretofore passed by the legislature of the State of California, defining criminal syndicalism and sabotage and providing penalties and punishment for such acts, which act is as follows:

NEWS OF T. M. SMITH

WRITES OF RECOVERY FROM TERRIBLE ACCIDENT OF FOUR YEARS AGO

The many friends of Thomas M. Smith, a former resident of Glendale, will be glad to read the following letter giving news of his welfare. Mr. Smith while in Southern California was in a terrible automobile accident which sent him to a hospital for many months. He writes:

"We had expected to return to California before this time, but 'The best laid schemes o' mice and men gang aft agley.' We hope, however, to be back again to God's own country by this time next year. Am glad always to know how things are moving in Glendale. I am very glad to say that I feel like my old self again and attribute my successful recovery from the terrible shock of nearly four years ago to the 'Lawn Bowling Association.' The exercise is gentle and at the same time a great developer of both nerve and muscle. My only trouble remaining from the accident is lack of hearing. I never hear a word on the green nor at the dining table, but only from individuals and that at close range and a loud voice. However, I am thankful that I am as I am. The doctor tells me I am a miracle. I played so well on the green (it is said), that I won two fine prizes this season, so I feel a little proud. I hope that a Bowling Green Club may be formed in Glendale or Pasadena. It certainly is good sport. I understand they have one in Los Angeles. I am about to shoot out for the green now, 2 p. m., Friday 21st, fine, mild, winter day. No snow yet in Buffalo."

GALESBURG-CALIFORNIANS

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stephenson, of South Central avenue, on Sunday entertained Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Rhodes of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Whitmore of Hollywood. They were old friends and neighbors in Galesburg, Illinois, and the Whitmores have just come west and built a home at Hollywood. Monday the Stephensons entertained another couple who were neighbors of theirs in Galesburg, Mr. and Mrs. Wykoff, and their son, who are now living at Long Beach. They report that a great many of their Galesburg friends are coming to California and there is a prospect that a reunion of Galesburg-Californians can be held before long.

MUSIC SECTION'S TRIBUTES

At the close of the program, given by the Music Section at the reciprocity meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, Mrs. Charles Parker, the curator and author of the libretto for the "opera, grand and otherwise," and Mrs. L. N. Hagood, composer of the choruses, were presented with very beautiful bouquets by members of the section, with cards attached, on which was written the following verse:

"From members of the Music Section,
Your section, your section,
With kindly thoughts of affection,
Affection, affection,
We trust these flowers may bring you
A very great delight,
They say in flower language:
'You're out of sight.'"

J. G. HUNTLEY HOME SOLD

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Huntley, at the corner of Central avenue and Broadway, has been sold to Mrs. Dudley, who sold property at 302 North Central avenue to C. C. Cooper and family, new comers in Glendale. The sale was made through the agency of Kerker & McMillan. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dudley will take possession in the near future. The purchase was made as an investment as well as a home, in the expectation that it would become valuable business property.

NO PAPER THANKSGIVING

Complying with the usual custom of the Evening News, there will be no paper published from this office on Thanksgiving Day. The Evening News has observed six holidays during the year, as follows. New Year's, Decoration Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas. Next November 11th, Armistice Day, will be observed, and as it is not the intention of the Evening News to increase the number of holidays, one of the others will be abandoned.

WEATHER FORECAST: Unsettled weather. Occasional rain.

GEN. PHILIPPE ANGELES EXECUTED

WAS FRIEND OF UNITED STATES AND WAS CONSIDERED THE BRAINS OF THE VILLA MOVEMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 26.—General Philippe Angeles, the intellectual leader of the Villista movement, was executed by a firing squad at Chihuahua City this morning. Angeles, who was a noted artillery officer, turned against Carranza and finally joined Villa. He was regarded as the real brains of the Villa movement. He was captured a week ago by Carranza forces and was transferred to Chihuahua City, where he was tried by a court martial which sentenced him to be executed. Angeles had always been a friend of the United States in all difficulties with Mexico.

ANNUNZIO'S CONQUERING CAREER

ITALIAN GOVERNMENT WARNED THAT HE WILL MAKE AN ATTEMPT TO OCCUPY TRIEST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ROME, Italy, Nov. 26.—The newspaper "Avanti" today warned the government that Gabriel d'Annunzio has sent emissaries to Triest to ascertain the feeling toward him there. The paper stated that this was preliminary to an attempt d'Annunzio will make to occupy Triest.

LONDON BELIEVES WAR IMMINENT

DECLARES BALKAN OUTBREAK IS INEVITABLE IF D'ANNUNZIO PERSISTS IN ACTIVITIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Semi-official circles believe that a new Balkan war is inevitable if Gabriel d'Annunzio persists in his activities. These sources take much the same view that the British press has taken.

LAUGH AT CONSPIRACY CHARGE

FRIENDS OF CONSULAR AGENT JENKINS SAY HE IS TOO WEALTHY TO BE TEMPTED BY RANSOM

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

HANFORD, Cal., Nov. 26.—Friends and business associates and members of the family of William O. Jenkins, American Consular Agent, held in jail in Mexico, declared today that the charge that Jenkins conspired with the bandits to abduct him, is rediculous. His relatives, including his father, declared that the sum of money Jenkins would have received in such a deal would have been insignificant to him. They revealed that Jenkins is wealthy, owning property worth millions of dollars in Mexico as well as three ranches in Kings county, California, worth $125,000, and that last summer he purchased a $45,000 home in Los Angeles.

MEXICO LIKELY TO REFUSE DEMANDS

MEXICAN EMBASSY CHARGES THAT JENKINS WAS ACTUAL CONFEDERATE OF HIS KIDNAPPERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—There are many indications here that Mexico is preparing the American public for a refusal of the demands made by this government for the release of American Consular Agent Jenkins. The Mexican embassy issued today additional accounts charging that Jenkins was an actual confederate of his kidnappers.

MEXICAN SENATE SUSTAINS CARRANZA

VOTES IN SECRET SESSION TO SUPPORT HIM IN ACTION TAKEN IN JENKINS CASE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 26.—It is reliably reported here that the Mexican senate in a secret session last night voted to support President Carranza in whatever action he takes regarding the case of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent, who is in jail at Puebla.

The senate also named a committee to investigate international relations and asked for a full report on the Jenkins case.

ULTIMATUM IN COAL STRIKE

GOVERNMENT DEMANDS THAT MINERS AND MINE OWNERS SETTLE THEIR DIFFERENCES AT ONCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—After the cabinet had reconvened this morning to resume consideration of the coal strike situation following yesterday's failure to reach an agreement, it was learned that Fuel Administrator Garfield will deliver to the miners and the mine operators a virtual ultimatum from the government demanding that they settle their differences immediately.

BOTT---AIRD

EX-SERVICE MAN TAKES FORMER LOS ANGELES SCHOOLMATE FOR HIS BRIDE

The many friends of the ex-service man, Asa W. Bott, of this city, will be interested to know that on Tuesday evening, November 25th, he was married to Miss Rilla Aird at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Aird, on Avenue Twenty-Nine, in the presence of about fifty relatives and close friends. The Aird home had been beautifully decorated according to a yellow and white color scheme, the fireplace before which the ceremony was performed being banked with flowers and ferns. Rev. DuBois, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

The pretty bride was married in a white satin gown and veil crowned with orange blossoms and was attended by her cousin, Miss Grace Fowler, as bridesmaid. Little Janis Sutcliff, another cousin, was the flower girl, and little Willard Leeds, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer. The groom was attended by his brother, Walter Bott. A novelty in connection with the marriage rite was the playing of the wedding march by the harpist, Mrs. Brewster, who also played following the ceremony.

After Mr. and Mrs. Bott had received the congratulations of their friends and enjoyed a wedding supper, they left by automobile for a brief honeymoon in the north. On their return they will make their home in Los Angeles. They were schoolmates at Los Angeles High and their engagement antedated Mr. Bott's enlistment in the 23d Engineers with which organization he served overseas during the great war from which he returned in September to take his old position with the Ducommon Hardware Company of Los Angeles.

Glendale was represented by the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Willard N. Bott, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Leeds, Willard Leeds, Mrs. Van Norman, the grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Roy Smith, sister of the groom, and Roy Smith, Miss Tessa Bott, Walter Bott, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bott.

THANKSGIVING AT BIG BEAR

J. H. Braly and a party of eighteen, composed of his children and grandchildren, two cooks and a chauffeur, left at eight o'clock this morning in two machines and a trailer for Big Bear in the expectation of celebrating Thanksgiving there in the two big camp houses which Mr. Braly and his son, Arthur Braly, of Pasadena, have built on the shore of the lake. With them went two or three turkeys already for roasting, and all the good things that go with a Thanksgiving dinner. They all love the camp and thinking there was a possibility of snow there, they thought it would be a great treat for the children of the party. On reaching San Bernardino they will telephone to Big Bear to ascertain if it is raining there and if so may turn back and have their dinner in Glendale after all, as they do not wish to take the risk of slippery mud on mountain roads. The cabin Mr. Braly has built there is 130 feet long, it contains bed-rooms enough to provide accommodations for sixteen people, and it also has its own electric light and water plants. He has a motor boat and is building a barge to be used in conveying supplies and camp equipment. Mesdames J. H. Braly and Arthur Braly decided they preferred to remain in the valley and will have a quiet turkey dinner at the Braly home in Glendale.

DINNER PARTY

Mrs. Chas. Franklin Miller, 317 East Chestnut, entertained with a dinner party Saturday evening, the occasion being Mr. Miller's and Mr. Hallett's birthday.

Covers were laid for nine; the guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Crampton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Isitt, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hallett and Mr. and Mrs. Miller and son, Herbert. They were all residents of Kansas City, Mo., before coming to Glendale to live.

Tropico Troop of Boy Scouts is growing so fast under its new Scout Master, George Loomis, and Assistant Scout Master Joe Webster, that at the last meeting more boys were present than are permitted for a troop. Some plan will have to be devised to take care of the overflow. The troop is meeting tonight at the Magnolia School.

THANKSGIVING AT G.U.H.

HISTORY CLASSES GIVE DRAMATIC REPRESENTATION OF PILGRIM FATHERS

This afternoon at the first or second period after luncheon a little celebration of Thanksgiving will take place at the High School which will be quite unusual. It is to be put on by the history classes of the school. The story of the first Thanksgiving will be told and of the landing on Monday when the Pilgrim Mothers insisted upon doing the family washing because it was Monday and therefore wash day. The first proclamation will be read, the first National proclamation, and the proclamation of President Wilson. The program will climax in the production by members of the classes of a dramatization of certain chapters of "Standish of Standish," which have been arranged for the stage by Miss Darsie and Miss Soper and by Miss Terry, who has also coached the actors and directed the play. John Alden, Priscilla, Miles Standish, and others famous in history or story will be represented, the girls in caps and kerchiefs, the men in the somber garb and tall hats of the Puritans. It means a lot of work, but it will make the history more real, both to the actors and spectators, and will give them a more definite conception of the origin and meaning of Thanksgiving.

YOUNG LAW BREAKERS

A few boys of the town have recently been brought before the authorities for shooting craps and they were not colored boys either. It looks as though some Americanization work was needed in the native population to make the rising generation understand that it is un-American to acquire the money or other property of another person without an equivalent in work or value. In other words, that it is a dishonest way of benefitting and no one can practice it without dishonor. It has been suggested that along with the readings of the Declaration of Independence and of the Thanksgiving Proclamations that our young people be given a course in reading the decalogue and some of the modern versions of the decalogue that have been elaborated into statutes.

WASHINGTON MUSEUMS

INTERESTING HISTORICAL FACTS DISCOVERED BY MRS. JONES AT CAPITAL

While Mrs. Jones was in Washington she did some prowling around the Congressional library and among other interesting things unearthed some evidence that the sentiment which is sustaining prohibition at the present time was also entertained in some degree many years ago by some men high in authority. She found in the library and copied, a letter from President Fillmore in his own hand-writing acknowledging a courtesy. It is marked at the top "private" and the word is underscored. The letter reads:

"Washington, July 23, 1850.

"Dear Sir:—I have to acknowledge the receipt of your note of this date requesting my acceptance of a part of the wine received by you from your friend, L. H. Yeatman, Esq. Like yourself I am chiefly a water drinker and consequently not a competent judge of its quality, but it will nevertheless be received by me with great pleasure and as soon as the removal of the habiliments of mourning from the White House will permit the entertainment of my friends, it shall be as you request, submitted to their criticism.

"Very respectfully and truly,
"Yours, etc.,
"MILLARD FILLMORE."

To the Honorable L. P. Chase.

In her visits to the Congressional Library, the War Museum and other storehouses of historic treasures she ran onto some interesting facts relating to women. For instance, she found in the War Museum a collection of the songs sung by our soldiers in the late war and among them the songs of Carrie Jacobs Bond, Mrs. H. H. A. Beach and other of our women composers.

She also found record of a woman who distinguished herself in a far different way. A certain Mrs. Taylor, she learned, was the first person to ever go over Niagara Falls in a barrel. After she had proved it could be done safely, some man did the stunt, had films taken of his adventure and made a fortune out of it.

Frances Willard was the only woman whom she found listed in the Hall of Fame.

THANKSGIVING

What can I say when mine eyes behold
The grandeur of mountain and sea,
When the crimson curtains of Dawn unfold
And the firmament opens to me?
What can I say to the Lord of it all
As He stands in the silence and waits;
Is it not fitting that I should fall
At His feet, when He opens the gates?

When He opens the gates to the glorious Day
And the Darkness has slunk to its lair,
When the gleam of the rainbow is seen in the spray
And the sunlight bejewels the air!
When the song of the bird and hum of the bee
Are blent with the wakening day—
When the voice of the mountain calls out to the sea!
Oh, what can a mortal say?

When He touches the eyes with the wand of His Love
And opens the heart by His Grace,
With the earth at our feet and the heavens above,
And the glimpses of infinite space;
Alll the thoughts of the mind that a mortal may frame
Or the tongue of a mortal may call,
Are inadequate yet to give praise to His name
Who is Maker and Ruler of all!

—J. C. Sherer, Thanksgiving, 1919.

ORGANIZED LEISURE

"Important as it is to organize and direct the industry of the world, it is more important to organize and direct the leisure of the world." This is just as true now as it was the day it was written by George Eliot, but we are now in a better position to accomplish this design than ever before in history.

Next to the wonderful military organization which beat the Huns to their knees was the vast civilian host which backed up the armies and navies of civilization.

In the time of the world's greatest stress ample recognition was given to the needs of leisure and the organizations providing this necessity for our soldiers and sailors now have an opportunity to continue their activities for the purpose of sweetening our every day life.

Many of the social welfare organizations have found plenty to do during the reconstruction period, but this has partaken somewhat of their war work as it has consisted largely of assisting in the return of service men to civilian occupations.

BUYING POWER OF MONEY

What will money buy?

Four things: Comfort, display, power and freedom.

Of these, comfort is fortunately the cheapest. In an ideal world, it might be the birthright of every person. In America it is at least attainable to every normal man who will continuously and energetically strive for it. But comfort at its top, where it begins to minister to vanity, verges on display. And to that there is no top limit. It is the crudest but the commonest ambition. It is an effort to show not that we are better than our neighbors, but that our things are better than their things. Its value consists, not in the desirability of the things, but in the inability of others to get them. It is a cheap superiority, but the only sort money will buy.

The love of power does not differ much at its bottom from the love of display, at its top. Both are ministers of vanity. But display consists of having things; power in doing things. So power expands into the abundant life, and at its top it consists in the devotion of great opportunity to great service. Money will not buy this, but it may buy the chance to do it.

And, finally, money will buy freedom—the leisure to read and learn; the leisure to travel and observe; the opportunity to associate widely, with people of one's own choosing; the space and the time to exercise freely the powers that are in one. To those who are capable of using it, this is the one thing supremely worth while that money will buy. But the same money, likewise buying freedom for another sort of man, will buy laziness and gluttony and sensuality. Liberty is the opportunity to be one's self, whether god or pig. Money will buy the liberty, but nature determines which use the man will make of it. And if nature made him for a pig, it is better for him if hard necessity elevates him to a work horse.—Exchange.

THE COMMUNITY SING

Everything that came out of the war wasn't bad. Much good was developed while the world was at white heat.

One of the best things that the war developed was the Community sing. No patriotic meeting was complete without its en masse songs. And the people liked it.

The war is over. Most of our soldiers are home. The fleet has gone back to its peace-time station. Military attire is giving place to civilian garb and the boys are taking their places in their old jobs. All of which is as it should be.

During the war we learned the value of thrift. All of us, even in these days of high prices, are still planning to pinch out a penny for the bank now and then. Another fine lesson of the war.

And so we must not forget the value of the Community Sing, rich in music and in good companionship. No one can help being benefited by an hour of music in which he joins his voice with that of his neighbors and his friends.

THREE GOOD QUESTIONS TO ASK BEFORE GIVING CREDIT

Walter Critchley, secretary and treasurer of the Cowperthwait Company in New York, makes the following statement:

"To go back to my own business, the furniture business: What do we ask a man who wants us to trust him? We ask him three questions: How much he wants to pay down, where he is working and how long he has worked there, and where he lives. If a man has worked for a firm three years we believe him reliable. If he has lived long in his neighborhood it looks like an asset. A man may have the best reasons in the world for changing his residence and his place of business often but, there is no question about it, permanence in either looks like stability in character."

WASHINGTON'S VIEW OF WAR CLOUD

ANNUNZIO'S THREAT TO INVADE DALMATIA REGARDED AS SERIOUS INTERNATIONAL COMPLICATION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Gabriel d'Annunzio's threat to invade Dalmatia is viewed as a serious international complication here.

The peace conference charged the United States with the task of maintaining peace in Dalmatia and if d'Annunzio carries out his threat, the United States will be expected to handle the situation he creates.

Rear Admiral Andrews is in command of the American fleet on the Dalmatian coast. The Navy Department refused to venture any prediction on what Andrews might do should d'Annunzio invade Dalmatia.

"The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

"Section 1. The term 'criminal syndicalism' as used in this act is hereby defined as any doctrine or precept advocating, teaching or aiding and abetting the commission of crime, sabotage (which word is hereby defined as meaning wilful and malicious physical damage or injury to physical property), or unlawful acts of force and violence or unlawful methods of terrorism as a means of accomplishing a change in industrial ownership or control, or effecting any political change.

"Section 2. Any person who:

"1. "Section 3. If for any reason any section, clause or provision of this act shall by any court be held unconstitutional then the legislature hereby declares that, irrespective of the unconstitutionality so determined of such section, clause or provision, it would have enacted and made the law of this state all other section, clauses and provisions of this act.

"Section 4. Inasmuch as this act concerns and is necessary to the immediate preservation of the public peace and safety, for the reason that at the present time large numbers of persons are going from place to place in this state advocating, teaching and practicing criminal syndicalism, this act shall take effect upon approval by the governor." Now, therefore, be it

THE HIGHLAND FLING'S THE THING IN ABERDEEN

ABERDEEN (By Mail)—Highland lassies may have their fling, but "jazzing" isn't suited to a kilt.

The Marquis of Aberdeen has been appealing to the girls here not to be led into the "perneecious" dances which hold sway in London town. He deplores that form of dancing and is out for the continuation of the good old hielan' fling, with its crossed swords, bare knees, sporran and kilt complete.

"Don't take my word for it," said Lord Aberdeen. "Take the word of any wise mother or good doctor about the modern dance. They will say it is unsuitable, undesirable, unbecoming and ungraceful. I hope if it shows its ugly face in Aberdeen it will be stamped out."

The hielan' lassies replied, "Och hai!" and evinced a marked preference for the bare-kneed fling to the bare-faced "jazz."

So everything in Aberdeen's "a'right the noo," and Harry Lauder won't need to seek other inspiration for his songs.

The Redondo Reflex has a chicken tale that has a real moral to adorn it. A man owned a chicken down there, but the chicken preferred to visit at a neighbor's, eating anything it could find over there, from table scraps to garden sprouts. At last the neighbor penned up the fowl, and then the owner awoke to the terrible injustice being done him and sued the neighbor, but whether for false imprisonment or fowl play is not stated. The judge was wise enough to sidestep the issue and found a clue whereby he could crawl out on lack of jurisdiction and the great moral question still is undecided as to what rights a chicken has in a neighbor's garden. If the neighbor had only whacked off the chicken's head and made pot pie of the remains the issue would have been clear cut, and the charge could have been changed to justifiable hennicide. But to merely pen the varmint up is not finishing anything, though the moral is still running around in plain sight, if chicken owners could only see it.

Practically all the orange trees in Southern California will soon be called upon to mourn the demise of their parents, the two original orange trees that have ornamented prominent plots in the city of Riverside since the orange industry was an infant. The trees have evidently lived their limit, and despite all sorts of doctoring, including grafting new roots on them, (which is perhaps the interstitial gland operation in orange tree medics), they refuse to put on new life and are slowly shuffling off this mortal soil.

Uniform Tires
Mean Long-Distance Millers
They Look Alike and Wear Alike

MILLER TIRES are built by men who are trained to a championship standard. Only by uniform workmanship, can tires ever be uniform in mileage like the Miller. To train men to our perfection takes much time. We cannot supply all dealers with Miller Tires.

So our policy is to concentrate, as a rule, on the dealer in each locality who will give Miller Tire users exceptional attention. That governed our choice in this city.

We chose a concern that knows that to give real service it must first of all carry a full stock of sizes, so that when you want a Miller Tire in a hurry, you can get it without waiting.

We are impressed especially with their ability to give motorists an expert repair service, and by their reasonable charges.

Before making this selection we canvassed the local field thoroughly. And the Miller agents here are making good with us by making good with you. Are you getting the benefit of what they have to offer?

Railway earnings look large in the aggregate, but railway employes are many, and the individual returns are not as large as might have been thought, when the idea that the profits should be divided among them is reduced to dollars and cents. Somebody has been working the sum, and looks up from his figures to remark that if the profits of the American railroads in 1914 had been thus divided, each employe would thus have received $17.82 a month. The results this year, as one follows this arithmetician, would have been more disappointing to the employes, for he reaches the conclusion that operation took eighty-four cents out of every dollar of income, and that the tax collector took so much of what was left that the final profit amounted to just three-fourths of a cent.

RECIPROCITY

tending banquets and who has sampled them all across the State and the Continent, declared that in all her journeyings she never saw a dinner served to so many that went off as smoothly and rapidly and with such perfection as did this dinner.

The only after dinner speaker was Mrs. Exley, President of the District Federation, whose talk was inspiring and full of the charm she knows so well how to infuse into such a talk. She gave much information concerning Federation plans and aims and told of her visit to Santa Barbara where the first of the county units was organized. The effort now is to organize club women not alone by districts but by counties. She also emphasized the starting of clubs among foreign women in a spirit of reciprocity—taking the best they have to give us and giving our best in return. This she thinks will do much to solve difficult problems in districts where there is a large foreign population because the families can be reached through the mothers. It is the sort of practical Americanization work the Federation is recommending. She also touched on the dress question and said she thought it time for women to establish a proper sense of values of the beautiful and artistic without trenching on the immodest and bizarre. She urged standing behind the women musicians who are trying to secure equal recognition for equal talent. The President's council was also referred to and the measures planned to broaden its scope and influence, and the entertainment by club women of the group of distinguished women who are guests in Los Angeles this week—Mrs. Catt, Valeria Parker, Mrs. Jean Penfield, Jessie Haver and Margery Shuler.

After the tables had been cleared and the audience had so adjusted itself as to face the stage, the meeting was called to order by Mrs. W. A. Tower, Club President, who made a number of announcements, stating among other matters of interest that the club had donated $10 to the Federation Fund as a memorial to its beloved ex-president, Mrs. Raymond Chase.

Mrs. Daniel Campbell then made a moving plea for the support of the salvage work undertaken for the benefit of the Children's Hospital of Los Angeles in which so many members of the club are warmly interested.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery was introduced and recited most effectively the prologue, "I Am Music," as a preliminary to the program of the afternoon—"Opera, Grand and Otherwise," given by the Music Section of the Club. It was a fitting introduction and at its close the members ascended the platform to the gay strains of the song played by the composer, Mrs. L. N. Hagood, and sung by the chorus, "We Are the Music Section," the concluding notes being drowned in a storm of applause from the highly appreciative audience. The members of the music section include besides Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, already mentioned, and the curator, Mrs. Charles Parker, Mesdames Opal Greenwalt, Frank Arnold, Oscar Von Oven, R. M. Yost, Eva Cunningham, Roy Masters, C. L. Marlenee, Ward, A. A. Barton, R. A. Puffer, C. H. Pendleton, Helen Campbell, Roscoe Jones, George Herald, Buchanan, J. T. Crampton, Mabel Capell, L. N. Hagood, E. W. Hayward, Della Johnston, G. D. Roach and Misses Gertrude Champlain and Eva Daniels.

Just previous to the advent of the singers an overture was played by "Madame How Goodski," better known in the community as Mrs. Hagood, the composer of the music for all the choruses in the little opera, the libretto being the composition of Mrs. Charles Parker.

Other delightful, saucy choruses, the composition of these two talented musicians, were, "How Very, Very Fortunate" and "With a Tower for Our President." Between the choruses and the recitative by "Madame Parkerinski," were Italian arias beautifully sung by "Madame Rochet," "Madame Yostano," "Madame Arnoldo" and "Madame Capello," a pleasing piano duet by "Mesdames Cunninghaminski and Masterino, a wonderful piano solo by "Madame Marlenee," a vocal trio in which the curator sang in company with Mesdames Heraldoso and Pufferino. There was also a clever reading of "minutes" by "Madame Von Ovano."

So insistent was the applause the chorus had to repeat the solo and chorus "With a Tower for Our President" and the finale in which it said adieu. Mrs. Tower voiced the sentiment of every person present when she voiced her own pleasure and pride in this music section before dismissing the audience. It was a delightful program wonderfully suited to such an occasion and Glendale maids and matrons who were there rejoiced when announcement was made that it would probably be repeated for the benefit of the husbands and brothers of members from whom it seemed a pity to debar such a treat.

John Brockman of 1511 Kenneth Road is making an addition to his beautiful white house.

Mrs. Al G. Barnes of 139 Belmont street is having the pleasure of entertaining this week her sister, Mrs. Schram, of Richmond, Cal.

Mr. Robertson of the Intermediate goes to Pomona for the Thanksgiving vacation and Miss Wooldridge, the art teacher in the same school, goes to Rialto.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Toll and family of Kenneth Road will spend Thanksgiving in Los Angeles with Mrs. Toll's sisters, Mrs. John Foley and Miss Joy.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Wilson, 121 North Louise, their son, Verne Wilson, and Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Lusby are motoring to Hanford to spend Thanksgiving with Lloyd Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson.

Rev. and Mrs. Ernest E. Ford are to eat their Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John Bradley in Van Nuys. Mr. Ford was their pastor in Interlaken, New York, fifteen years ago.

Miss Margaret McPherson, secretary of the Intermediate School, will join her sister, Vera McPherson, at Big Bear and the sisters will spend their Thanksgiving vacation there together.

The Mutual Benefit Reading Circle omitted its meeting at the home of Mrs. Toll today on account of the nearness of Thanksgiving which would make many of the mothers very busy.

Mrs. Lou Richeson, of Redlands, a cousin of Mrs. E. O. Kepler, of 200 West Garfield avenue, is here and will be the guest of Mrs. Kepler for several weeks. Mrs. Kepler will entertain relatives from Los Angeles and Hawthorne Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Peck, their daughter, Miss Peck, the son who has been in Cuba and who has been their guest recently, will enjoy a Thanksgiving family reunion for the first time in a good many years on the ranch of the son who is in Imperial Valley.

Thanksgiving is to be commemorated at the Intermediate School today with a few pantomimes to be presented at the assembly picturing early days and the Pilgrim Fathers. There will be an Indian scene, and a scene in which Priscilla and John Alden will figure as principals.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Pedersen, of Sheridan, Illinois, arrived this morning, via Santa Fe, to enjoy a Thanksgiving dinner with their son, P. M. Pedersen, and his wife, who are living at 317 East Lomita. They expect to remain for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Logan of South Central avenue will entertain on Thanksgiving with their usual family dinner and party for the afternoon and evening, their guest list including Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Ripley, Miss Dorothy Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stephenson, Dwight Stephenson and Mary Logan.

A meeting of the Executive Board of the Cerritos Parent-Teacher Association Monday evening at which Miss Hamill was selected to fill the office of Historian for the Association in place of Miss Maybelle Douglas, who is now teaching in Los Angeles. A decision was reached to at once purchase a phonograph for the school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Huntley, who have sold their home at the corner of Central and Broadway, are to give possession in ten days and are now hunting a house or an apartment. They do not wish to leave Glendale, particularly in the middle of the school year on account of the hardship it would be to their daughter, Virginia. Temporarily they will probably be with Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Smith.

EN ROUTE FOR KOREA

Miss Xana Juanita Hibben is visiting in the home of her uncle, David J. Hibben, on East Laurel street, and is on her way to Korea under appointment of the Foreign Mission Board of the Seventh-day Adventists. She goes to teach the children of missionaries and will leave San Francisco December 10th on the steamer Nanking. Her post of labor will be Seoul, the capital of Korea, about eighteen miles inland.

CERRITOS SCHOOL NEWS

There was no elaborate observance of Thanksgiving at the Cerritos School. Some of the rooms were decorated with a frieze of turkeys and pumpkins, and in some of the lower grades Thanksgiving stories were read to the children by the teachers. In the upper grades an effort was made to make the pupils realize the significance of Thanksgiving in our national life and the reasons we have for Thanksgiving.

A game between the soccer ball teams of Cerritos and Intermediate was scheduled for this afternoon, but will probably be called off on account of the rain.

MR. KELSO RECOVERING

Numerous local friends of Ivan Kelso, associate counsel of the Automobile Club of Southern California, will be pleased to learn of Mr. Kelso's recovery from a severe operation which he underwent recently in Los Angeles.

While it will be several weeks before the well-known attorney can return to his desk at the club, his final recovery will be more rapid than was expected. The operation was made upon his leg, and was necessitated by the recurrence of an old injury which Mr. Kelso suffered several years ago.

Camps for motorists all along the National highways are common, but camps in the "high places" also are being planned by the National Forestry Service, and finding a nicely laid out camp in the High Sierras or other mountains of California will soon be a reality for the motorist. San Bernardino, Riverside, Orange, Ventura, Santa Barbara and other counties will get their share of these aerial camps, it is said.

During the war there was organized throughout the country what was known as the War Camp Community service. The general purpose of that movement is well known. It performed a wonderful service. It was possible to organize this service by communities, because there was the common bond of interest in the soldier, sailor and marine. With them as the unifying object of interest it was possible to bring men and women together in localities for War Community service without much regard to other interests.

The development of a wholesome community spirit is the first step in evolving the proper environment, the shifting into the discard of petty jealousy, whether personal or political, the cultivation of the thought that your neighbor is not only your friend but your partner in the conduct of the affairs of the community, and your co-worker in providing environment of the right type. It is a high aim, but community service plans in time to create the right type of environment in every community.

"I Am Climbing Mountains" A Harmonious Tenor Duet

This sentimental song of childhood's and manhood's dreams and ambitions is a beautiful bit of harmony. Both this song and the coupling, "Golden Gate," are worthy successors to "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles," by the same authors. Charles Harrison and Lewis James—a new combination—sing them wonderfully.

"Nobody Knows, and Nobody Seems To Care"

Everybody will care a lot for this truly amusing tenor duet by Irving and Jack Kaufman. Lack of "lovin'" is what they lament. Coupled with "I Wanna Go Back to Dear Old Mother's Knee."

A FEELING OF THANKSGIVING

comes over us as we look back over the years we have been engaged in the contracting business and think of the confidence that has been reposed in us by those for whom we have constructed buildings.

As we pass the schools, churches, business houses, club houses and other public buildings, and homes which have been our handiwork we are glad that we did our best to merit this confidence.

WE ARE PROUD OF OUR WORK

Every building we have turned over to the owners, complete in every detail and exactly according to our agreement has been a satisfaction to us; and every completed building has made us that much more able and more eager to tackle the next one.

We pity the man who doesn't love his job. Building is our work and we love it.

Everett McKenzie, who lives at Lodi, received official notice the other day of his death in battle in France last year, and though he refuses to believe it, he will probably find that the government was right, before he gets through unwinding the red tape in his case.

CAPITALIZING OUR LEISURE

George Eliot, a keen student of human nature, somewhere has said: "Important as it is to organize and direct the industry of the world, it is more important to organize and direct the leisure of the world." And Maurice Maeterlinck, a master analyst of human aims and motives, puts the thought in these words: "It is the way in which hours of freedom are spent that determines, as much as war and labor, the moral worth of a nation."

Of late we have seen the truth of these views proved beyond question. We have seen the greatest of wars won with not men and munitions alone but with morale. Of these three factors morale is certainly not the least important. And what is morale but a matter of keeping the soldier mentally and physically fit through enjoyable use of his time when he is not fighting?

When our country entered the struggle this was one of our first considerations. With the call to service in defence of freedom came a call for volunteers to help make these young soldiers happy and comfortable. It was promptly answered, and the War Camp Community Service was organized under government supervision to "interpret to the man in uniform the friendliness of American communities; to provide hospitality and entertainment, information and fun; to make the towns and cities of the country good and pleasant places for the soldier and sailor." And to follow him to the battle line with the same sort of service.

For nineteen months this valuable work was carried on. It cost us many millions of dollars, but it was worth more than it cost. It provided one of the really effective weapons for winning. It proved on a massive scale the power of play, the force of friendliness. All the military leaders recognized its worth. They accepted it as an invaluable arm of the service. Leaders in civil life also appreciated its usefulness—and to such an extent that they are unwilling, now that the war is over, to part with its benefits. The war camps are a thing of the past. But community service as a positive force in reconstruction, a peace asset of incalculable worth, is one of the necessary agencies for national progress and prosperity.

Because of this a group of men and women who believe in Mr. Roosevelt's admonition that, "unless this country is made a good place for all of us to live in, it won't be a good place for any of us to live in," have undertaken a practical application of this great war work to one of our greatest peace needs—the upbuilding of friendly understanding and social co-operation among people grouped in cities and towns.

SILVER—THE WHITE HOPE

In every western mining state silver is the chief hope for a revival in precious metal mining after four years of very scant development, with little or nothing accomplished because of the scarcity of labor and the marked inefficiency of the labor available.

Silver had fallen in the London market in 1914 as low as 22 pence per ounce, and last month was quoted 66 1-2 pence, or $1.44 per ounce in gold.

The fact that a big Colorado company has organized $5,000,000 capital to open a silver mine in Mexico ought to interest American mining law makers.

New York financial journals advocate investments in the western silver industry as an opportunity to profit by a world-wide demand for a commodity of which we are the greatest producers.

Every dollar of silver produced is a dollar of new wealth created. Every dollar of silver exported to meet the demands of other countries is a dollar of new wealth, added to our country.

The bright outlook for silver makes it again fashionable—and permissible—to speak hopefully of mining, the ladder by which western states climbed from the "great American desert" to promising fields for profitable investment.

The number of mining enterprises at present under way in western states—backed exclusively by outside capital—means much for the years to come, when our spasms of economic experiment shall have run their course and affairs get back to normal.

THE BASIS OF CREDIT

If ever this nation had the value of insurance impressed upon it, it was during the war.

Insurance was the stabilizing influence and basis of credit. It was the safeguard of the soldiers' families and it assured protection to American industry from the frightful losses it suffered in overseas shipments.

The general public is not sufficiently familiar with stabilizing effect of insurance upon American industrial life today.

Impartial rating bureaus working along scientific lines, not guess work, have made it possible to reduce insurance cost while giving greater protection.

Insurance is one of the few industries that has been able to actually reduce its costs below the pre-war figure and this speaks well for private industry and enterprise.

Christmas boxes may now be sent to Red Cross workers in France. Remember last year about this time, when we were seeing how many square feet of Christmas stuff we could cajole into a little paper box about as big as an Irishman's brick bat, to send to the boys overseas? Some folks who never worried the dictionary much called the little boxes "cartoons," but they were anything but cartoons to the folks who sent them. Cartoons are funny, but sending a tight little kit of heart-love to your boy in the A. E. F., without even knowing whether he was alive or dead when you wrapped it up for him, or whether you would ever see him again, was anything but funny. If you had a boy over there before the armistice was signed you know how it felt, and if you have him home for this Christmas, you have enough to be thankful for to offset a lot of other things you think are troubles.

HACKETT AND PONSELLE SING AN ARIA AND HYMN

Columbia Records offer a second chance this month to hear Charles Hackett, the sensational new tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York. "O Paradiso" from "L'Africaine," the aria which almost alone would make an opera famous, is what he sings. It is undoubtedly one of his most superb efforts and he gives you all the beauty of the song.

"Abide with Me" is always a great song, but as sung by Rosa Ponselle and Barbara Maurel in their duet for Columbia Records it transcends its previous beauties. Ponselle, the great dramatic soprano, sings this wonderfully dramatic hymn with all the fervor that is in her.

For those who love ballet music interpretation of the "Danse Bacchanale" from "Samson and Delilah" will be a treat. The orchestra seems to catch the spirit of this wild Oriental dance foreshadowing the revelers' doom. On the other side of this record the same orchestra plays that brilliant piece of orchestration, Rimsky-Korsakow's "Capricio Espagnole."
